Your Library

"Books are the true levelers. They give to all who faithfully use them, the society, the spiritual presence of the best and greatest of our race." — W. E. Channing.

Caribes by Thelma Strabel Caribes has been chosen for your reading pleasure this week by your librarian, Mrs. Bettie Harris. This is a spell binding drama of love and fear, of heart break and heroism. The beautiful island of Martinique is the setting. The fury of the mountain hardly compares with the storm in the human hearts of the main characters. You'll find it the kind of book you will read with breathless interest and recall with real satisfaction.

Filler of Cloud by Jackson Burges is a story of a few people who try to pioneer a new trial to the Northwest. At first all went well, then doubts, as hatred was shown among some of the travelers. The hopes and fears and danger of those people who plodded their way westward in spite of hostile Indians, come alive in this novel. It is to such as these we owe our West.

Everyone is sure to enjoy A Harvest of Stories by Dorothy Canfield. This volume contains 28 short stories written over a half century. Some are new and others have stood the test of time. The reader will find stories of her beloved Vermont. Of wartime France where she was active in relief work during World War I. These people became much cherished friends, never lost from view, often visited in later years. Readers that are familiar with Dorothy Canfield will realize what a treat is in store for them.

From our EARLY YEARS

One Year Ago

The first summer recreation held at Ocoola Center, exclusively for children of that area, was a very definite success according to Wayne K. Fortenberry and Connie Wilder, directors of the program.

Quida Lanier displayed pianist talent which brought her the top spot in the Talent Scout Night Show at the Hugo Theater.

Five Years Ago

Emphasizing the necessity for remaining on the air 24 hours, "round-the-clock, during hurricane or other emergencies, Don Day program director of WSWN, asked the Lions Club Wednesday to start a letter campaign to insure uninterrupted broadcasting in this period of the year.

H.S. Grads May Get Army School

High School Graduates in the Glades area may be eligible to enlist in the United States Army and attend a service school near home, according to Master Sergeant Partridge, the United States Army Recruiter in this area.

A number of Army service schools are operated in the Southeast and offer an excellent means for a young man or woman to remain in close proximity of their home towns while in basic training and later in a service school of their choice.

Students are open for enrollment during the next month. One of the schools is the Army Aviation School at Fort Rucker, Alabama. Near Dothan, the school now has good sized quotas in Flight Maintenance and Aircraft Maintenance. Both courses last eight weeks.

Another school, located in Alabama, is the Chemical Corps School at Fort McClellan, near Anniston. At the Chemical Corps facility young men who are qualified can attend a nine week course of study in Chemistry and the school also has a seven week course in Chemical Laboratory procedures which is available to women high school graduates.

Acceptable candidates for Army school training may also attend a Guided Missile System Repair Course at the Ordnance Corps School at Redstone Arsenal, Huntsville, Alabama. One course is six weeks and the other course is ten weeks.

One of the Army's largest service schools is the South-eastern Signal School, located at Fort Gordon near Augusta, Georgia. The school teaches a variety of subjects ranging from cable splicing to electronic navigation which require as much as 25 weeks of intensive study.

Also on the list of subjects in communications are high speed radio operation, teletypewriter repair, field radio communications and telephone installation and repair.

Sergeant Partridge pointed out that women interested in an Army career may attend a Civilian Procedures and Typing School at the WAC Training Center at Fort McClellan, near Anniston, Alabama. The course runs for eight weeks following basic training.

Qualified young women may qualify to receive training in the chemical laboratory at the Chemical Corps School, also at Fort McClellan.

High school graduates who have completed their studies should contact Sergeant Partridge as soon as possible to receive full particulars about an Army school of their choice.

Sergeant Partridge is in the Glades area every Wednesday at the Belle Glade draft board office at 11 o'clock, at the Post Office at WY 6-2881, or at the U. S. Army Recruiting Station is located at Fern and Olive in West Palm Beach. Telephone Temple 28858.

Council Meets Monday

The South Bay City Commission met in regular session Monday, July 22, to discuss civic affairs. However, there was no action taken on any matters at that time.

CITY ACCEPTS BID

In other action the council: Agreed to give the Junior Chamber of Commerce $400 in advertising money which had been budgeted for publicity purposes for the city.

Authorized the city manager to purchase a 200-gallon spray machine for $500 to be used to control grass and weeds on road shoulders.

Heard that the members of two civil service board members, F. L. Harris and Robert Laniel, would expire soon, and instructed the board to present their recommendations for new appointments.

Learned from O. G. McWhorter that a party was planning to build 25 VA-approved houses in the northeast section of town, and that this party wanted city funds of a sewer.

Heard that the city of South Bay was to build a new water radio on Belle Glade frequency.

JOB AND WORKER

Agreed to retire a $15,500 issue of the water department. Tabulated until the next meeting any action on the abandonment of the water radio originally dedicated as a street near SE Ave. G.

Heard that the city of South Bay was to build a new water radio on Belle Glade frequency.
